Miss Nettie Francis is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Sarah A. Francis, near Leesburg.

REDBIRD CLUB.—The avidity with which this club changes the crustacean from its native sea green garb converting it to red is remarkable; but not as varied as this metamorphosis, they rapidly rob them of their jackets and pick them to pieces more thoroughly than antagonizing politicians do each other on the stump. A crab feast is something in which you have to engage to fully appreciate its merits. A typical one, under the auspices of the Redbird Club, was given at the Concordia Hotel last night. A spacious room had been carefully prepared with all necessary paraphernalia for the occasion and comfort of the invited guests while the crabs, which were the centre of attraction, proved to be as fine as the Potomac affords. The pleasant hostess, Mrs. C. Bohraus, in her most genial manner welcomed her guests and invited them to seats around the crab-laden board, the orchestra broke forth with the lively strains of "A Hot Time in the Old Town To-night," and, with a "viva," about 40 were seated for an evening's enjoyment. It soon became apparent that all present were aware of the fact that the best place to put a crab when removed from its elements is in wholesome beer. Among the guests were: Col. R. M. Lacey, Capt. John W. Smith and Messrs. M. J. Thomas, A. C. Bowser, Lew Barger, Max Fischer, J. M. Hill, Zoro Hill, M. Schuler, A. T. Travers and Henry Schultz. Many soldiers participated. In an adjoining room the officers' wives, with their lady friends, enjoyed a similar feast. Mr. Henry Schultz was declared the champion crab picker.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Wednesday last while Mr. George W. Saunders was driving in a buggy with a lady near Charlotte, N. C., a negro on a bicycle collided with the vehicle. Mr. Saunders was thrown out and received injuries from which he died. The deceased was a commercial traveler and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Saunders, who recently lived in this city, boarding with Mr. W. M. King. The body was sent to Baltimore for interment.

COOPERATION NOTES.—During the first of this week four officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad were in Occoquan in order to see the advantages of constructing a branch of that road from Woodbridge to that place. Before leaving they decided to have a survey made.

It is reported that Col. Anderson, of the Washington and Potomac River Land and Iron Company, has said that that company is negotiating with a Chicago company with the view to build a pier in Occoquan Bay on which a derrick may be erected that large vessels might be loaded with stone.

Mrs. Seleman, postmaster at Occoquan, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Harrison, in Woodbridge, Va., on Friday, July 23d. (Manassas Gazette.)

CAMP ALGER.

General Butler, as stated yesterday, left Camp Alger, as day for Manassas, where he intends to seek a suitable camping ground for his division.

The time of the departure of the First Division corps headquarters and the hospital corps has not been determined, but they will probably leave next Wednesday.

Copies of the order issued by the War Department, organizing a provisional division for the Porto Rico campaign, were delivered to the colonels commanding the First Virginia, Fourth Missouri, First Rhode Island and Fourth Connecticut. The First New Jersey received notification on Thursday.

Except in the regiments named the receipt of the order indicated is not thought to be particularly significant.

The impression prevails in camp that the expedition will not start for several months, if at all. Transportation facilities are meagre in the extreme, and are made more so at the present time by the necessity for the moving of the volunteers now at Santiago. In view of the fact, said one of the officers on duty at headquarters yesterday, it is not likely that the five regiments from Camp Alger could proceed to Porto Rico before the latter part of September.

Colonel Nalle, of the Third Virginia, and the colonels of the other regiments named have, however, conferred with the provisions of the order, and left camp yesterday morning to report to the War Department as directed.

Col. Nalle, of the Third Virginia regiment, yesterday evening reported to General Wade that his regiment was in readiness to go to Porto Rico. Lieut. Cooper, regimental quartermaster, has received orders to at once equip the regiment, but this work can be done in a very brief time, as the men are practically ready.

Maj. Gen. Butler reached Manassas yesterday evening at 5 o'clock, accompanied by his staff. He remained overnight. He expects that the troops now at Clifton will march to Chapel Springs to-day. Gen. Butler thinks of locating the soldiers of his division, now camped near Dunn Loring, near Brevinsville, not far from Chapel Springs. He says they will not start for a few days.

The time of the departure of the First Division Corps headquarters and the hospital corps from Camp Alger has not yet been determined, but they probably will leave next Wednesday.

Among the sentences published are the following: In the 3rd Virginia—Private Henry M. Patterson, Company A, $5 fine; Fitz Lee Smith, Company A, six months' imprisonment at hard labor and dishonorable discharge.

A dispatch from Manassas says: Thousands of white shelter tents last night dotted the long historic ridge near Clifton, on the very ground where, 37 years ago, Gen. Early's army rested behind Confederate intrenchments. The still more historic water course of Bull Run, lighted by the bright moon, winds like a silver thread through the extensive forest that skirts the camp, while eight regiments of the Second Army Corps sleep within sight of the old battle-field.

The army was preceded yesterday by staff officers, who arranged for the camp. A little after 11 o'clock in the morning the Kansas volunteers proceeded half a mile up the ridge and were allotted space on an elevation that looks down upon the Southern Railway tracks in the valley and flanks on the left a strong redoubt erected by Gen. Early's soldiers. The Third New York came close behind and were allotted space so that their regimental flag could float from one corner of this Confederate fortification.

The 159th Indiana, the Seventh Illinois, the Sixth Pennsylvania, the Third Missouri, the Second Tennessee and the First Rhode Island tented on the ridge in about the order named.

The march from Burke's Station, where the soldiers camped, was without any special incident.

A provost guard had been sent in advance, and soldiers were stationed at every farmhouse and cornfield to keep their comrades out of mischief. The previous day, while passing a farmhouse, when requested to give some Tennessee soldiers a drink of water, a woman, it is reported, replied that it would cost 10 cents a drink. The story brought here is that the soldiers, enraged at the answer, looted the house, stripped it of every eatable from cellar to garret, and treated the woman with great indignity.

Several staff officers have made trips to various outlying points within the last two days to locate a camp that shall be permanent at least for a time. Col. Lusk and Col. Elgerly, of Gen. Graham's staff, went out to thoroughfare Gap yesterday.

They have been in consultation with ex-Representative E. E. Meredith, of this place, who is familiar with the outlying country. It seems to be settled to-day that the camp will be located at Chapel Springs, which is on the Southern Railroad, about four miles west of here, and a little over a mile from Bristow. Ex-Representative Meredith and Supt. Ryder, of the Southern Railroad, visited the site this afternoon, where the work of preparing it has already begun.

A dispatch from Washington says the intention now is that after the First division has joined the Second in the vicinity of Manassas the troops will remain for a while and then start on another march toward the Shenandoah Valley, camping wherever suitable ground can be found and establishing a permanent camp when the proper place is located.

The new camp at Dunn Loring is proving so satisfactory that no one will be much surprised if the 1st Division does not join Gen. Davis's command for a full month.

Yellow Jaundice Cured.
Suffering humanity should be supplied with every means possible for its relief. It is with pleasure we publish the following: "This is to certify that I was a terrible sufferer from Yellow Jaundice for over six months and was treated by some of the best physicians in our city and all to no avail. Dr. Bell, our druggist, recommended Electric Bitters, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I now take great pleasure in recommending them to any person suffering with this terrible malady. I am gratefully yours, M. A. Hogarty, Lexington, Ky." Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' Druggists.

One Minute Cough Cure surprises people by its quick cures, and children may take it in large quantities without the least danger. It has won for itself the best reputation of any preparation used to-day for colds, croup, tickling in the throat or obstinate cough. C. G. Lennon.

After being married for 23 years, Alexander Schwab returned to his family in Bond, N. Y., a few days ago. Instead of dying he is now making money. His return home was a joyful occasion.

It is conceded at Seattle, Wash., that the Columbian river salmon pack will be 10,000 cases short this season. The Fraser river pack will also be short.

YELLOW FEVER WILL COME.
As stated yesterday Dr. John Guiteras, the yellow fever expert, arrived at his home in Philadelphia yesterday from Santiago, where he had been engaged in yellow fever work under the direction of the government. Dr. Guiteras said:

"The yellow fever cases thus far have been of a light order, and the mortality among the troops has not been heavy. The most serious source of trouble at present is from typhoid fever and malaria. Most of the men ill in the hospitals are suffering from one or the other of these diseases."

"As the season drags on, however, the yellow fever will become more serious, and then it will be worse than the typhoid."

"For reasons apparent to all, I cannot discuss the affairs of the army in public. I shall make an official report of my observations direct to Surgeon General Sternberg. Most of the troops now in Santiago, I suppose, will be brought to Long Island to recuperate. It will be an admirable place for them."

Concerning the reported trouble between himself and the Red Cross Society, at Santiago, Dr. Guiteras would say nothing.
